The Kaleidescape System organizes a classical music collection and provides informative biographies and performance details. The tailored experience brings greater enjoyment to those passionate about the genre.

The Classical Works collection assembles all performances of each composition in the Kaleidescape music library, making it simple and intuitive to locate a particular performance. The Classical Composers collection gathers music by composer, whether it originates as a complete album or as part of a compilation album.

Together, the Classical Works and Classical Composers collections solve the problem of finding a piece or performance. For example, locate a short minuet by Mozart by browsing “Mozart” in the Classical Composers collection or by browsing “Minuet” in the Classical Works collection. A favorite movement may be selected with the press of a button. It’s no longer necessary to search through shelves of CDs to locate a particular piece, movement or performance.

The Kaleidescape list and cover art views combined with the Album by Artist and Album by Title collections simplify the search for albums. These particular features are available for all genres of music, including classical.

The listening experience is enhanced with extensive biographical information on composers, performers, conductors, soloists and ensembles. Photographs and artist renderings of the musicians entertain the viewer.

The intuitive Kaleidescape interface makes it straightforward to arrange music in user-defined collections and to create Mix Albums of favorite or thematic music.

Whether one is setting aside time for critical listening or simply enjoying background music, the Kaleidescape System perfects the classical music experience.
